

The background of the slide features a white surface with concentric, wavy ripples emanating from a central point. In the center-right of the image, three smooth, grey, rounded stones are stacked vertically. The top stone is the smallest, the middle one is slightly larger, and the bottom one is the largest. The text is overlaid on this background.

Dear all,

I have secondary school leaving certificates from Somalia from 2013-14. Any suggestions on how/where I can verify the results?

I have the same question about Zambia. I tried using their system, but wasn't successful. Any hot tips?

Regards,

Hi, Beth,

There aren't a lot of options for Somalia, but it depends on which board issued the documents. As far as I know, the Somali National Examination Board doesn't go back as far as your certificate, but for future reference, here's a link: https://soneb.gov.so/verification/certificates_list.php?page=list1

There are also private exam boards, we have had some success with verifying FPENS documents on their website: <https://fpens.org/>

Best,
