Written Proposal

A proposal was written to show the need for a redesign, provide justification for the proposed changes, and set limits on the changes that were going to be made.

General changes, new navigation, and page standards were included in the proposal. This blanket approval set the scope.

Be sure to formalize sideboards to justify decisions and say no

Inventory

A general inventory helped understand the starting point, set realistic goals, and provide a reference for information that had to transition to the new format.
